

Dear Fulton Distributing Customers,

As part of our commitment to transparency and reliability, we want to inform you of an important change affecting transportation and logistics costs.

Recent geopolitical developments in the Middle East, including the ongoing conflict involving Iran, have created volatility in global energy markets and driven higher fuel costs across the United States. The rapid escalation of oil and diesel prices has reached a level that necessitates the implementation of a cost increase to enable us to continue providing dependable transportation & distribution services.

Effective April 6, 2026 we will be increasing our delivery from $6.50 to $7.50 to account for the significant increase in transportation and distribution costs. As the energy markets stabilize and pricing decreases, we will adjust our delivery fee accordingly.

Sincerely,

Aaron Lotto

COO
